Personal Notes About Hilo, Etc.

HILO (Hawaii), May 11.—The quiet of this burg was somewhat disturbed on Tuesday evening last when word was telephoned around town that a tragedy had been enacted in Hilo jail, in which one man lost his life. At the time of the fatal enactment there were but four inmates of the jail besides Deputy Jailor Frank de Souza. Kauai, a desperate character who was serving a term for larceny, called upon the deputy jailor for his medicine. The medicine was brought him and he was allowed to step out of his cell into the yard, the deputy jailor following closely. Upon reaching the hallway, Kauai made a grab at the jailor's neck and tried to throw him. The lantern which the jailor held in his hand fell to the floor and immediately the floor was in a blaze. Kauai succeeded in getting the jailor floored very close to the fire and was attempting to choke him to death when three other prisoners whom the jailor had called came to his assistance. A Portuguese named De Mello, who is being held as a witness in a criminal case, directed all his energies to putting out the fire, while Hapaumi ran to the assistance of the jailor. During the three-cornered struggle which ensued the prisoner Kauai was knocked down twice, each time striking upon his head with terrific force, the first time upon an iron bolt. Before he could rise to continue in the fray, Kamausa, another prisoner, had brought the jailor a pair of handcuffs and given aid in adjusting them on the criminal. The jailor telephoned to the Sheriff's office, and then, noticing that Kauai looked faint and was bleeding at the nose and mouth, he sent for Dr. Moore, who arrived very shortly, but only in time to pronounce the prisoner a corpse, death being due to fracture of the base of the skull.

Deputy Sheriff Lyman held a coroner's inquest the following morning, a verdict of accidental death being agreed upon, in which the other participants in the fray were fully exonerated from any and all blame, and the prisoners who gave assistance were highly commended.

Kauai was an Hawaiian and had served several sentences and has always been the source of much trouble in prison, once before having attempted to lead all the prisoners to "break" jail while at work on the volcano road. On this occasion he was shot in the leg by the captain of the guard.

This was the second call for a coroner's jury within the one week, an inquest having been held Monday over the body of Anoi Makaleka, a little 6-year-old girl who met a sudden and tragical death on Sunday evening. While playing around the lumber yard of C. E. Richardson a heavy timber fell and struck her head so as to render her unconscious. She was picked up and carried to the office of Dr. Wetmore, where she expired in a few moments.

Sunday was Portuguese day in Hilo. Crowds were seen flocking toward town from all directions, and upon inquiry it was learned that Mr. Vivas, the Honolulu leader of the sons of Portugal, had called a mass meeting of his people in the court house yard. A number of addresses were made by prominent Portuguese, the substance being the assertion of rights for his class. A branch of the Honolulu organization was effected in Hilo, of which J. M. Gouvea was chosen president and J. E. Rocha secretary.

The fires of Mokuawewewo are no more to be seen. During the two weeks of flaring the grandeur of the scene became more and more intense until the last night of blazing glory, when the scene was one of wonderful magnificence. On the night of the 5th the fires ceased to loom up, and all signs of activity have disappeared. On the other hand, the crater of Kilauea is said to be very much hotter than it has been, any of the cracks being hot enough to burn a stick.

A party of Hilo tourists consisting of Messrs. Silva, the photographer, Fuhr, Wery and Father Aloys, who started for Mokuawewewo with a guide last week, and were thought to have been lost, finally returned to Hilo with long stories to tell of dreadful experiences they had encountered in their adventures.

A number of the active members of the Hilo Social Club are earnestly engaged in rehearsing a one-act farce-comedy entitled "The Economical Boomerang," which they will produce on Thursday evening at Fireman's hall. Attendees at the First Foreign Church were treated to two masterful and most interesting sermons preached by the Rev. Dr. Dille of San Francisco, on Sunday morning and evening. The reverend gentleman is a most able divine, and his sermons were among the most powerful Hilo people have heard for some time.

The Kilauea encountered rough weather along the coast this week. One of her boats was badly smashed at Papakou this morning and a native sailor was injured by being carried against the rocks.

It is to be hoped that W. G. Irwin's efforts to secure for Hilo a good, substantial modern building on the Spreckels property, at present occupied by the old hotel, will meet with success.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Patten of Hakalau have gone to Honolulu en route to the coast, intending to be absent a few months.

C. S. Bradford returned to Honolulu today. Mr. Logan will remain at the volcano a short time.

Miss Ryecraft of Pohukiki is visiting in town.

Mr. Dauphney, a recent arrival from Eureka, Cal., has joined the colony in Olua.

Mr. and Mrs. Trowbridge spent several days in Hilo. Mr. Trowbridge goes to the metropolis today.

F. M. Wakefield, the attorney, will be a passenger this trip of the Kinau. Mrs. Frank Smith, daughter of Sheriff Hitchcock, is expected on the bark Santiago, which left San Francisco on the 26th ult. She returns to Hilo on account of ill health.

Mrs. George Deacon and sister are expected on the bark Annie Johnson, which left San Francisco on the 4th instant.

Miss Bella Weight and her mother intend making a trip to the coast during the vacation of the schools this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hobson are the jubilant possessors of a fine baby boy.

NEW MISSION CHAPEL.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones Make a Present to Central Union Church.

Tuesday was the thirty-fourth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cushman Jones, and in commemoration of the event Mr. Jones, on Wednesday, presented to the Central Union Church for five years a new mission chapel on Liliha street, built entirely at his expense. The chapel is convenient as to build and fills a want in that part of the city.

A CLEAN CUT INDIVIDUAL OPINION, BOLDLY EXPRESSED.

It is for this reason that an assertion like the following sticks up above the dead level of our stupid talk, and becomes noticeable: "When I saw how pale I had grown I said to myself, it was because something had gone out of my blood."

There! that is a statement with the seeds of an idea in it. Suppose we follow it up by quoting the rest of the letter which contains it.

In December, 1890, says the writer, "I fell into a poor state of health. I was tired, languid, and weary without any apparent cause. My appetite left me, and all food, even the lightest and simplest kinds, caused me great pain in the chest and stomach. When I saw how pale I had grown I said to myself it was because something had gone out of my blood."

"Then my sleep was broken, and night after night I scarcely closed my eyes. It wasn't long before I became so weak and dejected that I took no interest in things around me. I was so nervous that common sounds annoyed and worried me; even the noise made by my own children in their talk and at their play."

"There was a disgusting taste in my mouth; it made me sick, and often gave me a shivering sensation all over. When I saw others eating and enjoying their meals I felt as though it were a strange thing; in a way I wondered how they could do it. For food I could eat hardly anything. Food went against me, and I turned away from it, as one turns from sights or smells that are offensive. And yet I knew, what everyone knows, that without sufficient food the body languishes and weakens. And such was the case with me as month after month went by."

"During all this time, so full of pain and discouragement, I was attended by a doctor who did what he could to relieve me, but without success. I do not say he did not understand my complaint; for may he not have understood it without having the means of curing it?"

The answer to the lady's question is: Yes, easily enough. All intelligent, studious doctors "understand" consumption, cholera, cancer, etc., without (as yet) having the means of curing them. There is usually a wide gap between the discovery of a want and the way to supply it.

"I will now," continues the letter, "tell you how I came to be cured. In April, 1891, I read in a small book or pamphlet about Mother Seigel's Syrup. The book said the Syrup was a certain remedy for all diseases of the stomach, indigestion in every form, and dyspepsia; and it also said that most of the complaints we suffer from are caused by that. On looking over the symptoms described in the book, and comparing them with my own, I saw plainly that my ailment was dyspepsia."

"We sent immediately for a bottle of this medicine, and after taking it a few days I began to feel better. In a very short time, by keeping on with the Syrup according to the directions, I could eat without pain or distress, and digest my food. I also slept soundly and naturally. Then my strength came back and with it the color to my face. In short, after a few weeks use of Mother Seigel's Syrup, I was hearty and strong as ever. And I should be indeed ungrateful if I were not willing that others should have the benefit of my experience. You are therefore free to print my letter if you think it will be useful. (Signed) (Mrs.) M. Truran, Marton, Lincoln, April 24, 1895."

I simply desire to say to Mrs. Truran that her idea about the blood is a perfectly correct one. All our food (the digestible part of it) is turned into blood, and in that shape it feeds the entire body. When the blood gets thin and poor (lacking in nourishment), we lose flesh and grow feeble and pale. And the cause of the blood getting thin and poor is indigestion, or dyspepsia. How easy this is to understand when once you get hold of the right end of it. Mother Seigel's Syrup has the peculiar power to correct what is wrong about the digestion, and thus enables the digestive machinery to make good rich blood, which is life, health and beauty.
